

Self evaluation – Week 1

I participated in both exercises, first the jigsaw puzzle exercise and second the LEGO city building session. I had learned about Scrum before in a course on personal development and leadership, so it was not new to me, but this expanded my level of comfort in the practice. I acted as Scrum master and I believe I learned a lot when it came to inter-group communications and planning.

The project group is made up of people I have all worked with before – I feel comfortable working with them all and are confident they will all do their part to the best of their ability.
